THE SITUATION AT THE CAPITAL PRACTICALLY UNCHANGED.

The Populists Anxious to Elect a Senator Before the Row Gets Into the Supreme Court.

J. B. Watkins, of Lawrence, the Well Known Capitalist, Shies His Castor Into the Senatorial Ring.

Chairman Breidenthal Declares That the Decision of the Supreme Judges Would be Respected by His Party Assoclates-Seven Republican Members Unseated by the Rump House - Another Fruitless Ballot for State Printer.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 20.-One ballot for state printer was taken in the joint convention this morning. George W. Crane had 78 votes, being the entire number cast. Rosenthal and Meagher, Democrats, were present. It takes 83 votes to elect. The Republican caucus last even ing was not so unanimous on the question of state printer as appears on the surface. There was no bullot taken for United States senator, and after appointing a committee, empowered to act in all mat-ters relative to state printer and United States scuator, the caucus adjourned to meet at the call of Chairman Richter, Messra, Cubbison, Eastman, Phinney and In our East Window a lot of Box Wharton were appointed on the part of Paper, former price 40 and 50 the house, and Messrs. Parker, Danuer and Sterne on the part of the senate. Mr. Richter declined to serve and Mr. Butter was substituted. Mr. Cubbison was made chairman.

It appears from the best information to be obtained that the populists are preparing to elect a United States senator, if possible, and that they will sacrifice everybe from Barber country.

The Republican house adjourned this afternoon out of respect to the memory of as soon as they are able to do this all matters pertaining to the organization of the house will be amicably settled. Governor Lewelling is said to have made the statement to the populists broadly that the life of the populist party in Kansas, depended upon the election of Judge John Martin to the United States senate; otherwise the Democrats would no longer act with them, and they would be a minority party in the state, unable to accomplish any of the reforms they seek. They expect some of the Republicans to vote for Judge Martin, but the Republicans say that not a man being committee.

Speaker Douglass of the Republican to vote for Judge Martin, but the Republicans say that not a man among them will cast such a vote.

A new factor has appeared in relation to the senatorial question. J. B. Watkins of Lawrence, one of the wealthiest and bear house that he is a candidate, and proposes to make the fight an interesting one, and that he will remain in it to the fluish. He is a Democrat, having never voted any other ficked in this life. He puts his raiddacy upon the broad ground of its being the best thing for Kausas. He is engaged in building a railroad from the guit to Kausas City and has 163 miles of its allowed to Carry out his projects, the senator he hasys he will be able to get the further assistance of the people ($185,000 he are allowed to Carry out his projects, the result of which will be on the country of the proposing an archy, "was read and received with a plantase. He had a position to get the help of men in this is senatorial light that no one size can get, this candidacy seemed sufficiently complicated, but it in no wise affects the Republican of the country. The received a community of the form the chairman of the Republican from the chairman of the Republican from the chairman of the country. The received a community above all in a position to get the help of men in this is senatorial light that no one size can get, this candidacy seemed sufficiently complicated, but it in no wise affects the Republican situation.

There is no question that the populists which already seemed sufficiently complicated, but it in no wise affects the Republican situation.

There is no question that the populists of the country is a country of the country. The report of the administration of the country is a constraint of the country. The country is a constraint of the country is a position that the wall and that he will be added to carry out his projects, the result of which will be of incancing the course he has taken and asserting that is the unantimons senting the course he has taken and asserting publican situation.

There is no question that the populists have weakened on their proposition to impeach the supreme court if it should decide agains: them. They have played the game of "bluff" and have found that did not work worth a cent. Mr. Briedenthel, chairman of the populist committee, said today: "The supreme court will decide the entire controversy when it gives its opinion as to the validity of the bills passed by the legislature. We have confidence in the supreme court, and whatever its decision is we will abide by R. If we should attempt to impeach the court every person in the country would know it was for political effect."

Senator Sterne's resolution for a committee of five to examine the returns to the secretary of state's office came up today, but Mr. Householder, populist, moved to refer it to the committee on elections. Mr. Sterne objected, and said:

"A large number of persons have openly claimed that the will of the people was defeated in 1890 and 1892 by those having the election returns in charge. If these returns were in any manner changed the people ought to know it. If they were not changed, then the people who made the clarges—no metter how high may be their station—should receive the condemnation. charges—no matter how high may be their station—should receive the condemnation of the people of this state for making false and maintons charges against public of ficers. It will be very easy to settle the truth or faisity of these charges. The de-feat of the resolution will be an acknowl-eigment to the people that these charges were made for political effect, and that those making them were arraid of a full.

Seven Republicans were unseated in the seven Republicins were unseated in the populist house today and their places filled with populists. It is understood that W. M. Mitchell of Reno county re-fuses to take the seat of his Republican opponent, who was in all fairness elected. opponent, who was in all intrees elected. The following named pages were declared elected in the house of representatives, and they are all good Republican horse. Elson Hale of Rush county, James Blains Pratt of Hamilton county. POLITICAL MANEUVERING.

Topega, Kan., Jan. 20,-There was no indication this morning of any important move being made by either of the rival houses. In fact, it is doubtful if the populists attempt to pass the senate legislative | year. appropriation bill this week.

Mr Dunsmore, in an interview this morning, said: "Both sides are working

The opponents of the bill will not indulige in dilatory tactics. When Tuesday comes no further speeches will be made, and its opponents will meet the issue—defeat the bill if they can, and ablie by the result. It is apparent, however, that they do not hope very strongly

Mr. Campbell of Stafford county asserts his independence more than any other man in the populist house, and now and then creates a small-sized sensail namong his colleagues. Totay he said: "Mr. Speaker, I would like to know why the staff of the committee that inquired into the sweating system. The report is a voluminous document, embracing all the testimony taken by the committee and a careful analysis of the suggestions that Speaker, I would like to know why the flag—the stars and stripes—is not raised to its place over this wing of the building! It has always been the custom for the flag to be shown above the capitol when the legislature is in session, and I would like to know about it."

Mr. Dunamore replied: "It is the business of the executive council to take care of the building, and I guess we will let them take care of the flag."

One populist member of the election committee objected to the report firing the Republicans. He filed a minority report, which says: "Believing that a person rightfully holds office by either appointment or by virtue of his receiving a majority of votes, I flie this minority report."

His name is William Garrison, the member from Barber county.
